

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A multi-part shelf includes an upper portion having one or more openings that allow spilled material to pass through the upper portion; a solid lower portion, configured to contain the spilled material; and at least one support that supports the solid lower portion beneath the upper portion and allows movement of the lower portion without movement of the upper portion or material stored on the upper portion.